Parnell Expands Veterinary Anesthesia Portfolio with Isoflurane

A Trusted, Cost-Effective Inhalation Anesthetic for Horses and Dogs

OVERLAND PARK, Kan. (Jan. 6, 2026) – Parnell is proud to announce the launch of its new Isoflurane Inhalation Anesthetic, a nonflammable and nonexplosive solution designed for the induction and maintenance of general anesthesia in horses and dogs.

Available in 250 mL bottles, Parnell's Isoflurane provides veterinary clinics with a reliable, cost-effective alternative to existing options, ensuring safe and efficient anesthesia care.

"We are pleased to introduce Isoflurane as part of Parnell's continued commitment to advancing pet specialty care through dependable, high-quality anesthesia and sedation solutions," said Pablo Lamberto, DVM, SVP and President of U.S. Operations for Parnell. "Isoflurane reflects our focus on delivering consistent clinical performance while enabling veterinary teams to manage costs responsibly without ever compromising the safety, comfort, or quality of care their patients deserve."

Key Features:

- Rapid induction and recovery
- Nonflammable and nonexplosive
- Convenient 250 mL packaging

Isoflurane complements Parnell's robust anesthesia and sedation portfolio, which includes PropofolVet Multidose (propofol injectable emulsion), Parnell Brand Dexmedetomidine Hydrochloride Injection, and CONTRASED™ (atipamezole hydrochloride). To further support veterinary success, Parnell offers the Foundations of Anesthesia & Sedation Certificate Program, an online course providing 10 RACE-approved CE hours.
